Enjoy not Analyze Can We Simply Enjoy The Wine?

Saturday's Last Bottle

There comes a point in the evening that you are pouring exceptional wine and your palate is fried. You may no longer enjoy the subtle nuances of a wine for which you paid good money. So have a "Tuesday wine" on hand to close out the evening. You may need a few bottles but affordable and easy to drink is the key.

We ended the night with this "porch pounder," Montepulciano d'Abruzzo. We call it "twig wine" because they attach a piece of grape vine on every bottle. Any store that carries it knows it, so if you ask for "twig wine," they will take you right to it. I found the lowest price at Total Wine – $15.99. I then added a 20% off coupon and got it for $12 and change.

Note the "Twig"

That is all for now.

Cheers,
