Bright burnt sienna color. Aromas and flavors of cherry preserves, wild strawberry, rose potpourri, orange peel, incense, anise, hint of horse saddle, and hibiscus with a lightly tannic, lively, dryish medium body and a graceful, complex, long finish that shows nuances of basalt and fine black tea with well-integrated, firm tannins and light oak flavor. Bold, intoxicating aromatics jump from the glass in this over-delivering Langhe Nebbiolo; certainly one to drink now or cellar.
